

BIRTHS, DEATHS AND MARRIAGES NOTICE TO TERMINATE A CIVIL PARTNERSHIP

Domestic Relationships Act 1994
Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1997
Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Regulation 1998

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

This form can be used to apply to the Registrar-General to terminate a civil partnership. A civil partnership may also be terminated by the completion on this notice or by application to the Supreme Court. Applicants should be aware of their responsibilities under the Domestic Relationships Act 1994 (the Act) and if they wish to terminate a civil partnership by order of the Supreme Court you should seek independent legal advice or contact the Supreme Court. You can view or download the Act from www.legislation.act.gov.au.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Either or both parties in a civil partnership may use this form in accordance with section 371 of the Domestic Relationship Act 1994, to give notice to the Registrar-General of the intention to terminate the civil partnership.

If the notice is given to the Registrar-General by only 1 party, it is effective only if:

- a copy of the notice has been served personally on the other party; and,
- the attached statutory declaration is completed by the person who served the termination notice, including the date on which it was served.

To serve this notice personally on a party, the person serving the notice must:

- give the party a copy of the notice;
- if the party does not accept the notice, put the copy down in the party's presence and tell the party in general terms what it is; or,
- if the person serving the notice is prevented from approaching the party by violence or threat of violence, or by a court order, put the copy down as near as practicable to, but in sight of the party.

At the end of 12 months after the day this notice is given to the Registrar-General the civil partnership is terminated unless

- the termination notice has been withdrawn;
- the Supreme Court makes an order that the termination notice is not effective to terminate the civil partnership; or,
- the civil partnership has already been terminated by the marriage or death of either party.

Upon termination of the civil partnership, the Registrar-General will give each party written notice that the civil partnership has been terminated on the date in the notice. The party or parties who gave this notice to the Registrar-General, before the end of 12 months after the day on which this notice was given to the Registrar-General, may withdraw the termination notice. To withdraw a termination notice please complete a Notice of Withdrawal of Termination of a civil partnership form.

A civil partnership is terminated upon the death or marriage of either party.

Please note 3 forms of current identification must be provided upon lodgement of this form. If lodged by both parties, each person must provide 3 forms of identification. (Include copies with application)

PRIVACY INFORMATION

The Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1997 authorises the Registrar-General to collect the information required by this form. The Registrar-General prevents any unreasonable intrusion into a person's privacy in accordance with the Information Privacy Act 2014. The Registrar-General may provide identifiable information to law enforcement organisations and authorised organisations that have legal authority to request information under prescribed circumstances. The Privacy Policy can be found on the Access Canberra website at <http://www.act.gov.au/privacy>.
