Medical Examination of Commercial Vehicle Driver Licence

The medical standards set out in 'Assessing Fitness to Drive' act as a guide for medical practitioners in providing expert advice when carrying out driver fitness checks on behalf of driver licensing authorities.

The standards (and medical form) were developed in conjunction with a range of medical organisations on behalf of the National Transport Commission (NTC) and Austroads and have been endorsed as the national standards for commercial vehicle drivers.

In accordance with the ACT's commitment to national road safety initiatives, these standards apply to all drivers of public buses, taxis, rideshare cars, hire cars, restricted hire cars, heavy vehicles over 8 tonne GVM, and riders of hire car motorcycles, accredited driving instructors and heavy vehicle assessors.

All medical practitioners can access these standards at www.austroads.com.au. The role of the medical practitioner is to advise whether the criteria for driving a commercial vehicle are met. The ultimate decision as to whether a person can be granted or retain a commercial vehicle licence is a matter for Access Canberra.

The completed Commercial Driver's Health Assessment should be submitted to the relevant business unit listed on the front page.

Payment

The licence applicant is responsible for payment of the medical examination fee.

The Australian Taxation Office has advised that a tax deduction may be allowable for a medical expense that is sufficiently linked to a particular vocation. On this basis the cost of the examination may be claimed as a work related expense. For more information please contact the Australian Taxation Office.
